We Strive for a Higher

As students of Hazelwood High School, we realize that our actions and attitudes reflect upon ourselves, our school, and our community. We, as representatives, are the link between the school and public opinion. We feel that by being a member of the Hazelwood student body there are four basic virtues which every one of us, as individuals, should exhibit. They are Truth, Honor, Wisdom, and Friendship.

There are two phases to our truthfulness. The first is concerned with personal honesty to ourselves. We use truth as the illuminating factor in realizing our abilities. We face life realistically, never rationalizing. The second phase of our truthfulness has to do with our relations with others. Through honesty we are sincere. We value this sincerity, and, therefore, consider it as one of the greatest gifts we can give to others: Truthfulness provides strong evidence of our sincerity and strength of character.

Others recognize our honor by our sportsmanship, respect for authority, and diligence in our school work and all extracurricular activities. We deeply respect the opinions and abilities of others; we have respect for school property; we are honest in our school work; and, above all, we uphold and strengthen the reputation of the school.

Our wisdom is manifested through every word we say and every action we perform. Wisdom is the power "to do." It is exhibited in the high personal goals and excellent standards which we have established as the means by which we can contribute to our school and community. We attend this school and its activities in order to further our wisdom. We are aware of the important part the wisdom of the individual plays in a democratic society.

One of the most important aspects of our school life is our relationship with others. Our friendship, therefore, is characterized by sincerity, courtesy, and consideration of others. We try to be aware of the feelings and needs of others, and we consider it necessary to put ourselves in their place before acting. We believe, as Ralph Waldo Emerson believed, "The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Population Growth Poses

Mr. Clifford R. Kirby
Superintendent

"The increase in population in our district is the greatest concern of the administrators," states Mr. Kirby. "We believe that the district has a higher sustained rate of growth than any other district in the entire United States."

Mr. Francis C. Huss
Principal

"I heartily approve of your yearbook theme—Hazelwood Has High Hopes. I feel that we have had a successful year in spite of bringing in 1,000 new students, and I certainly have high hopes that next year will be an even better one."

A year from now the enrollment of the School District of Hazelwood is expected to be about 15,000 pupils—some 4,500 more than are currently enrolled.

The district's population boom is staggering; it is far greater even than the area's industrial and commercial growth. This massive change is shown by the fact that in a little more than a decade the Hazelwood district will have gone from a small number of one, two, and three-room schools to the largest district in St. Louis County.

To offer facilities for the enrollment increase of approximately 1,000 students in the senior high school, a new wing of 31 rooms was added in 1962. For science classes, one chemistry, three biology, and three general science rooms have taken over part of the new wing. Four language rooms and a language laboratory are now being used. Other rooms added were two typing rooms, one shorthand room, one bookkeeping room, one general business room, and one office machine room. Three home economics laboratories and one driver's education room were also built.

The new addition has provided the needed space to accommodate 1957 students.

"Best wishes"

Science . . . From Atoms to

From the smallest particles of matter to an astronaut orbiting the world, science covers all areas of modern life. In the world today science greatly improves our individual lives and influences world affairs. Facilities for science study at Hazelwood have been expanded with the completion of six new laboratory-classrooms. Through experimentation and observation in the new laboratories, students learn to apply what they have studied. In four science courses: general science, biology, chemistry and physics, students develop their ability to think accurately and logically. The knowledge they gain will be invaluable to them in this scientific age.

Develops Keen Minds

Mathematics prepares students for the future by challenging their minds. Students develop clear thinking and logical reasoning while learning to apply mathematical principles.

By taking general math a student can meet the graduation requirement of one unit of math. Algebra I, II, plane geometry, and trigonometry give students a foundation for college and technical courses. This year mathematical analysis and modern mathematical concepts are offered to advanced students for the first time. Hazelwood recognizes that mathematics is a common tie between subjects. Math is a prerequisite for the higher science courses such as chemistry and physics.

GROUP DISCUSSION . . . Mrs. Tamarkin prefers a circular arrangement for her English III class. This formation encourages more informal discussions.

The main objective of the Language Arts Department is the teaching of communication skills—reading, writing, listening, and speaking. Each skill has specific goals. The student is encouraged to appreciate literature and to develop a life-long interest in reading. In addition to reading, the spelling, punctuation, capitalization, organization, and thinking skills are taught.

The Language Arts offer 17½ units of credit. These include courses in English, speech, drama, debate, journalism, reading, creative writing, and three foreign languages.

This year, for the first time, English IV is required. It is thought that the student whose formal education terminates with graduation needs as much training in mastering his language as the college-bound student. By taking four years of English, each student is given the opportunity to reach his potential in communication.

Two new courses, creative writing and rapid reading, were added to the curriculum. The reading course teaches the student to refine all reading skills and to develop critical reading skills. Creative writing is a laboratory course in which the student creates, revises, edits, rewrites, and evaluates his writings.

The library also has expanded to meet student needs. An additional room was added to the library, and more than 2200 books were purchased this year.

Teaching . . . The Laboratory

An innovation in our school this year is the language laboratory. This 30-station room is shared by the French and Spanish classes. The basic purpose of the laboratory is to provide regular practice in listening to the good models of the foreign language and to make possible a large amount of imitation and repetitive oral drill. Listening practice is intended to lead progressively toward the ability to understand the spoken language. Oral drill is aimed toward acquisition of the fluent speaking ability needed to express thoughts in conversation with pronunciation, intonation, and the use of grammatical forms accepted by the educated native speaker.

Because Latin is not spoken, translation and memorization are the main methods of class work. By translating Julius Caesar and other famous Roman works, Latin students learn about the period in which Latin flourished.

Creativeness Expressed in Home

FIT TO FORM . . . Pat Lohrke decides what alterations are needed on her suit, while Myrna Zachritz waits ready to help with pins and measuring tape.

Creativeness is essential for home economics and art classes. Whether sketching a picture or setting an invitingly attractive table, a student must use ingenuity. Art classes focus attention on the decorative arts and produce beautiful objects for their own sakes. By closely observing life, art students attempt to capture it in the stroke of a brush or in an exact hue of color. From realistic landscapes to contemporary designs students artistically record their impressions.

Making a home happy and comfortable is an art. Accordingly, home economics classes give instruction in family relationships, food preparation, clothing construction, child care and interior decorating. In home economics and art, students find a satisfying means of expressing themselves.

BEATING TIME . . . Drummers for the band, Tom Adams and Dave Grote, show their skill with drumsticks.

Let Us Hear

From the glorious strains of the "Hallelujah Chorus" to the stirring beat of the "Hazelwood Fight Song," students enjoy making music together. Vocal technique, voice development, tone development, and voice control are the four basic things learned in chorus classes. Fundamentals of music classes give training in basic techniques. Instrumental music trains students in the precision necessary for playing well. Harmony, tempo, and rhythm receive much attention.

The A Cappella Choir is a vocal group composed of selected voices. It performs at the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies and at the spring concert. By singing with this group, a student develops greater vocal skills and learns to perform before an audience.

Playing in pep assemblies, sports events, and concerts, the school band has a busy schedule. In order to be ready for these events, it practices daily playing new music, developing tone, and marching.

Music appreciation is stressed in all phases of the music department. Appreciation of music as a form of beauty and an expression of mood sharpens enjoyment for the performer and for the listener.

in Business Courses

For the student who wants a secretarial career or a course to facilitate her work in college, the Business Education Department offers six subjects. This year office machines was added to the typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, secretarial practice, and clerical practice classes. A total of 895 students have taken advantage of these subjects.

New equipment, such as bookkeeping machines, rotary and printing calculators, and the new fixed carriage typewriters, increases practical experiences. Top speed and efficiency are expected of all students enrolled.

Those who take shorthand and secretarial practice reach an average speed of 90-100 words per minute, and those who take typing one year average 60-70 words per minute.

After graduation, the student can be confident that she has sufficient experience to enable her to progress rapidly in a secretarial career.

Trains for Industry

One of the many factors to be considered in choosing a career should be knowledge about the occupation that interests the student. Industrial arts offer him the opportunity of familiarizing himself with all kinds of industrial careers. He is able to develop skills that will be useful in everyday situations.

Metal working and wood working teach not only know-how but the history of the craft. Drafting develops the ability to make and interpret the graphic language. Electricity class gives experience in the use of tools dealing with the laws of electricity. The Industrial Arts Department also offers a course in home mechanics for girls that can be used in maintaining a home.

Each course widens the knowledge of the student beyond the three Rs.

Girls' Physical Education Makes

UPS AND DOWNS . . . Cheryl Yeager and Donna Howard show their skill at jumping double on the trampoline.

A healthy body helps to make a healthy mind. The Girls' Physical Education Department organizes its activities with this idea in mind. Girls in physical education classes build good health through exercises, experience, the excitement of competition. They gain pride in learning new skills and practice good sportsmanship. Participation in numerous activities is encouraged throughout the year—hockey, basketball, tennis, volleyball, tumbling, and softball. The girls enjoy exercising to the beat of the song, "Chicken Fat." Many girls show their interest in sports by staying after school for intramural play. "Phys. Ed." is one of the most popular courses offered at Hazelwood.

Muscles

"Physical fitness is not something that just happens. It develops from our youth."—Colonel John Glenn, the first American astronaut to orbit the earth. This statement represents the stress being placed on physical fitness throughout the United States. Vigorous exercises keep boys at Hazelwood physically fit. For endurance and strength, the boys participate in calisthenics, team sports, and individual sports. Good sportsmanship is emphasized with stress being placed on the rules of team sports. All freshmen and sophomores take health where they study the principles of hygiene, nutrition, and first aid.

Statistics prove that students who take driver's training are safer and more reliable drivers than those without professional training. Recognizing this fact, Hazelwood offers driver's training to all qualified sophomores.

TIRE TROUBLE . . . An important part of Driver's Training is learning what to do in time of trouble. Bob Overy and Richard James find tire changing an easy-does-it job.

Student Council

Student government is an important part of school life. Representatives from each class convey the opinions of their classmates to the Council assembly and faculty advisors.

The Student Council sponsors four major social activities each year. In the fall their social calendar begins with the Mixer, where students receive their yearbooks and make new acquaintances. Next comes Homecoming Weekend. December brings the Christmas dance. Finally, the April picnic completes the social year.

Currently the Council's top priority project is the American Field Service Foreign Exchange Program. It is hoped that next year Hazelwood will be able to bring a foreign student to study here.

Students go to the polls in May to elect Student Council officers and representatives, who are to be sworn in the following year. Spirits soar as school politics are discussed during the campaign week preceding election day. With the ballots counted and the results announced, another progressive year comes to an end.

Tomorrow's Leaders Today

TOP: Officers—President Jim Wilderman, Treasurer Lynne O'Shea, Secretary Mary Jury, Vice-President Bob Snider.

GIVE UNTIL IT HELPS . . . Curt Parker collects money for Ho Van Be in a National Honor Society school-wide fund drive.

National Honor Society members are selected after the beginning of the second semester by the entire faculty. To qualify for membership, a student must have an accumulative scholastic average of 85 and possess outstanding qualities of character, leadership, and service.

The club's permanent project is the sponsoring of the school's overseas orphan, Ho Van Be. The Vietnamese boy is supported with the money collected annually from the student body.

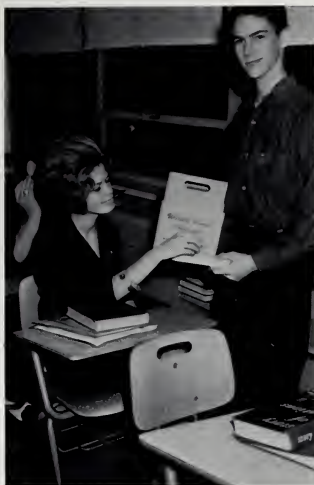

BAREFOOT BOY . . . Eleven-year-old Ho Van Be poses near his home in Vietnam.

Key Club Gives $500 to Scholarship

The Hazelwood branch of the Key Club International, sponsored by Mr. Dawkins, contributes the proceeds from its annual candy sale to the P.T.A. scholarship fund. This year the contribution reached an all-time high, $500. Members are selected by the faculty each year from a list of applicants. Each boy is invited to lunch with a representative of the local Kiwanis Club, which sponsors the organization.

A SWEET TOOTH . . . Steve Thorn sells Key Club candy, the proceeds of which are donated to the P.T.A. scholarship fund.

JETS Take Off for Another Big Year

The Junior Engineering Technical Society is sponsored by the Hazelwood Science Department. To qualify for JETS, a student must be a junior or senior who is maintaining an S average. During the year each student works on a project which he enters in the Greater St. Louis Science Fair.

Cash grants for the materials used in these projects are furnished by the National Science Foundation. In addition to the help given by Mr. O'Hara and Mr. Collins, the club advisors, the students also receive assistance from individuals associated with nearby universities and industries. The JETS meet each Monday evening.

Debaters Bring New Glory to Hazelwood

THAT'S A GOOD POINT . . . The varsity affirmative, Dave Schramm and Lynne O'Shea, listen attentively while the opposition presents its argument.

The Debate Club, under the direction of Mr. Duvall and Mrs. Hollander, learns by doing. The teams participate in debates with other schools where stimulating arguments illustrate the finer points of debating.

The varsity squad, consisting of team chairman Bonnie Barbareck, Lynne O'Shea, Dave Schramm, and Morris Brown, is debating two topics this year—Resolved: The United States Should Have Reciprocal Trade With Non-Communist Nations of the World, and Resolved: The United States Should Promote a Common Market for the Western Hemisphere.

SEEKING THE FACTS . . . The varsity debate team uses library facilities for research purposes.

SEATED: T. Jones, M. Brown, J. Wilderman, L. O'Shea, M. Jury, J. Franklin. STANDING: Mr. Duvall, B. Barbareck, G. Eichmeier, J. King, T. Morgan, R. McKenna, D. Schramm, Mrs. Hollander.

F.T.A. Acts as Student Teachers

F.T.A. is a specialized organization for young people planning to enter the teaching profession. The F.T.A. acts as host to student teachers at a social held for them after Turn About Day. Each year club members tour local teaching colleges, where they get a candid view of campus life. They also assist the elementary teachers in a field trip to Grant's Farm.

AT THE PUNCH BOWL . . . Arleen Westerfeld, Lenore Fisher, Mary Jury, and Charlotte Boyer serve at a faculty tea.

"It's a woman's world," say the Hazelwood High Homemakers. Exploring new vistas in the field of home management keeps the club members busy.

Parties, dinners, and style shows make their efforts worthwhile. In addition to their many other activities, the girls in H.H.H. find time to assist other school groups in the culinary arts.

Their active participation in school-sponsored activities is exemplified by the donation of proceeds from their Hawk jewelry sale to the scholarship fund. A fashion review at the Spring Project Fair, a prize-winning Homecoming float, and a cake walk at the Spring Picnic are just a few of the many rewarding projects of these future homemakers.

CANDLELIGHT . . . Candles symbolized the oaths taken by the new officers and members at the installation ceremonies.

OFFICERS . . . Secretary Lynnore Fischer, Business Manager Nelda Evans, Treasurer Sue Stewart, Vice-President Liz Islik, and President Gloria Rottman keep fashion-wise.

Future Nurses Assist in TB Testing

Future Nurses Club, consisting of juniors and seniors, is sponsored by Mrs. Walcher, the school nurse. Meeting every other week, the members hear speakers from the medical profession and plan field trips to nearby hospitals. Many of the members serve as volunteer nurses' aides in hospitals. Each year the club assists Mrs. Walcher in administering the TB tests.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION . . . Officers—President Kathy Kirby, Secretary Nancy Moss, Vice-President Hilda Dowling, and Treasurer Mary Groos illustrate the fine points of hospital bed-making.

THE HEALING ARTS . . . Nancy Moss assists in the TB testing program.

SEATED: Mrs. Walcher, K. Luce, M. Clawson, C. Peroutka, A. Martin, J. Lockhart, N. Moss, K. Kirby, H. Dowling, S. White, S. Howell, S. Farasy, C. Vogt, J. Weingartner, P. McNeely. STANDING: E. CHIEF COOK AND BOTTLE WASHER . . . Jim Cadell stirs chili for the Letterman's Club Supper.

Members of the Letterman's Club try to promote athletic participation, stimulate school spirit concerning all athletic events, and create and maintain good sportsmanship throughout the student body.

Each year the club has a chili supper. The proceeds this year went for additions to the locker room equipment, a training table and cabinets, and for the purchase of the new basketball scoreboard.

NO LEFTOVERS TONIGHT . . . Wayne Marks and Andy Drake call this cleaning up the kitchen after the Chili Supper.

DOUBLE PLAY . . . President Ray Estep, Vice-President John Lively, Secretary Wayne Marks, and Treasurer Jerry Sibley play a game of ping pong in the student lounge.

Hawk Shots Aim for Good Pictures

Learning to take better pictures, developing film, familiarizing themselves with camera functions, and photographing school events were the aims of this year's Camera Club.

Having acquired a new dark room and processing equipment, members were able to gain practical experience. Each club member took a turn working in the dark room several times a week.

With the help of professional photographers, the members learned the more complicated photographic methods such as retouching and tinting.

OFFICERS . . . Vice-President Wayne Johns, Treasurer Charlotte Boyer, Mr. Fox, Secretary Donna Smith, and President Mike Webb.

Hawk Talks in School Newspaper

FOUND THAT TYPEWRITER . . . Newspaper copy is typed for the last time before it goes to the printer.

LET 'EM ROLL . . . Steve Thorn and Dave Schramm put the finishing touches on the newspaper at the printer's office.

The HAWK TALK, the bi-weekly high school newspaper, has undergone a face-lifting this year. Journalistically speaking, the front page layout is centered around a floating mast, a variety of new headlines have been added, and more and larger pictures are being published.

A revolving editorship gives each student the responsibility of publishing. The HAWK TALK staff prides itself on complete coverage maintaining an interesting balance of news, features, and editorials.

Although staff members sign up in the regular manner for the newswriting course, they must be approved by the advisor and the counselor.

Torch Lights

ROUND UP THOSE SUBSCRIBERS . . . Hilda Dowling, Carol Gipson, and Bill McFadin put up posters to advertise the beginning of yearbook sales.

"Where are those layouts? You haven't done them yet? Tomorrow is the deadline! Can't you do anything right?"

Through all this confusion the staff carried on with the help of Mrs. Bridgeman. Many hours of hard work went into this year's TORCH, and we hope you enjoy it.

Hawkettes Add Glamor to Games

ON YOUR MARK . . . Hawkettes wait at the 40-yard line for their cue from the marching band.

The Hawkettes are a Hazelwood first this year. Consisting of 27 girls, the drill and dance team performs between halves at football and basketball games. With the help of their sponsor, Mr. Crocker, the girls have adopted a point system by which they are able to earn a school letter. Members add extra points by solo performances. Points are subtracted for absence from rehearsals. The Hawkettes hope that their newly-formed team will become a Hazelwood tradition.

They Make Music Where Ever They Go

"To set the air with music bravely ringing is far from wrong . . ." could well be the inspiration of the Robed Choir. Under the direction of Miss Nancy Owens, the Robed Choir presented for the entire student body a Thanksgiving program, a Christmas assembly, and a Spring Concert.

During the Christmas holidays, members of the group lent a festive air when they sang carols at Lambert Airport.

Spring activities included the Robed Choir's participation in the Spring Festival and the Spring Picnic Talent Show.

As is traditional, they provided the choral background for Honors Convocation and Commencement.

The Hazelwood High School cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Williams and Mr. Wright, take their cheering seriously. This summer the girls attended a cheerleading clinic at Parkway High School where they learned new yells. Leading the fans at wrestling meets and football and basketball games keep the girls busy all year round.

Pep Club Furnishes Incentive to Win

The large membership in the Pep Club shows that Hazelwood sports fans back their team 100 per cent. Club members enjoy reserved seats at home games and transportation by the bus load to all away games. By urging his team to victory while watching exciting sports activities, the Pep Club member earns points toward a high school letter. Each year the Pep Club joins together with the Letterman's Club in presenting a costume dance.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders

MISSED THIS ONE . . . But Jim Cadell caught others in the Hawks' 5-3-1 season.

Future Varsities

The 1962 Hawk football team was one of the best in the school's history. With a 5-3-1 record, Hazelwood took second place in the tough Middle Six Conference of St. Louis County.

Highlights of the season included non-conference victories over Pattonville and Berkeley, plus a thrilling 21-21 tie with league champion Lindbergh.

During one three-game streak, the Hawks rolled up 72 points while their defense held the opposition scoreless. This included the 39-0 Homecoming victory over St. Charles. A fine team of juniors and sophomores should boost the Hawks to even greater heights next year.

SIDELINE RUN . . . No one was even close to John Lively on this touch-down run against the St. Charles Pirates.

Could Not Have Been Better!

The traditional Homecoming Weekend activities got underway October 20, with Black and Gold Day and an enthusiastic pep assembly Friday afternoon. That night a blazing bonfire, thrilling yells, and the burning of the St. Charles Pirate spirited the students for the festivities to come.

Saturday, the day of the big game, began with the parade. Gala decorated floats entered by the school clubs competed for prizes for the most original and outstanding. That afternoon, fans filled the stands to watch the exciting football spectacle and the beautifully executed half-time entertainment provided by the band and the Hawkettes. The Hawks certainly contributed their part with a 39-0 victory over the St. Charles Pirates.

The Victory Dance climaxed the weekend Saturday night when the happy Hazelwood students crowded the gym to watch the football players escort the Homecoming maids and to applaud as the retiring Queen crowned the new Homecoming Queen. The 1962 Homecoming couldn't have been better!

SCORCH THE PIRATES . . . Miss Julius, with Mrs. McKinney and Mary Jury, is taping the club emblem on the N.H.S. float.

Dance Climaxes Victory Game

SO MISUNDERSTOOD . . . Chelle Crocker is seen in one of her more dramatic poses as she portrays the character of Fairy Mae.

The 1962 Junior-Senior Play, entitled "The Curious Savage," was presented on November 15-16.

It was a warm-hearted comedy by John Patrick about the gentle inmates of a rest home and their contrast with the world outside. Old-fashioned, sound philosophy was worked into its fast-moving pace.

Mr. Duvall, speech and dramatics teacher, directed, with Eva Smith as assistant director and Tom Babcock as technical director.

HO! HO! HO! . . . Santa's Fantasy would have been incomplete without the awaited visit of old St. Nicholas.

FLOWERS FOR THE QUEEN . . . Jim McMillan had the honor of presenting the Queen's bouquet to Joan Beiter.

SANTA'S WORKSHOP . . . Presented in an appropriate setting, the royal court, Sue Austin, Mike Cadell, Barb Walchshauser, Roy Lotspeich, Sandy Donnan, Dave Anzelone, Joan Beiter, Jim Cadell, John Lively, Kathy McQuigg, Bob Jaeckel, and Janet Hughes, were received warmly by all who attended.

Lettermen's Fun Raises Funds

H-M-M-M-GOOD . . . John Lively spoon-feeds a sample to official taster Ray Estep.

WHILE BACK IN THE KITCHEN . . . George Herwig and Jack Schroeder do their stint at K.P.

Teachers for the Day Take Over

Turn-About Teacher Day has become an annual event in the school that both the faculty and the student body find rewarding and stimulating. Teachers turn over their classes to outstanding students who take their duties seriously. These student teachers make detailed and original lesson plans, they are enthusiastic in their presentation, they assume responsibility for discipline, and they enjoy the respect of their peers.

FUTURE SCIENTISTS . . . Rich Gruenewald assists Terry Hammer and Rick McKenna in using the process of titration in an experiment to determine the amount of acidity.

BEATNIK . . . Mike Webb matches on his bongos the rhythmic pattern of poetry while teaching English IV.

THAT PROFESSIONAL TOUCH . . . A slight arm sprain brought Bill Dolan into the clinic for Kathy Kirby, nurse-for-the-day, to administer first aid.

Comic Page Characters Come to Life

FROM THE STONE AGE . . . Sandy Serig, Bill Meredith, Wally Spitzmiller, and Connie Axtel won first prize for the best costumes.

Each year the Pep Club and Letterman's Club get together for a costume party. The theme is always light and gay, and the guests let themselves go for a relaxed evening of pretending to be somebody else. This year Donald Duck, Nancy and Sluggo, Prince Valiant, Natasha and Boris, and other famous characters from the comic pages had a ball at "Cartoon Capers."

ANYONE FOR TRASH . . . Madeline Gentle and her date took their masquerades of Gus and Fitch so seriously that they clung to their trash can even while dancing.

LET'S SHAG . . . For the second year Mary Jane Leonard and Steve Norton won the dance contest.

Cockroaches, penguins, calves-foot jelly, and a huge mummy case provided interesting properties used by the cast in giving the production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," March 8-9.

The play was given by the Student Workshop Theater and was the first play to be presented in-the-round. Proceeds of the comedy were donated to the PTA Scholarship Fund.

COULD IT BE? . . . Is the question Eva Smith, Morris Brown, Tom Babcock, and Bill Akers seem to be asking as they examine a mummy case sent to them by the Khedive of Egypt.

"O'DEAR! MY CALVES-FOOT JELLY!" . . . Screams Rosemary Jackson as Donna Zelle, Jim Wilderman, Jim McMillan, Mary Froman, and Melinda Siler stare in astonishment.

A POLISHED PERFORMANCE . . . Was given by the newly organized Student Workshop Theater.

Annual Picnic Clears $345

NOTHING BUT TALENT . . . Was shown by Mrs. Utery and Mr. Ragaini in their version of the McGuire Sisters' "Mommy."

SPLAT, BULL'S EYE! . . . Mr. Dawkins gets his face washed with a balloon filled with water.

WHAT MUSCLES . . . Dwight Goad actually paid money to bang away at the wrecked car the Lettermen used for their picnic activity.

LOOK INTO MY FISHBOWL . . . Hilda Dowling is reading Carol Schiedler's palm to see what she can expect in the future.

THE GRAND FINALE . . . With Mr. Raiche and Mr. Boyer lending a soft-shoe, the chorus brought down the curtain on the first all-school talent show.

Box suppers, money-making booths, and a teacher-student talent show were the perfect ingredients for a wonderful night of fun at the annual Student Council Picnic. In addition to having a good time, students and teachers supported a worthy cause by contributing $345 to the Foreign Exchange Student Fund.

for Plantation Paradise Ball

The veranda and the terraced lawn of a colonial mansion was the scene of the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom, "Plantation Paradise." Carolyn Koser and Dan Ross were crowned Queen and King of the southern belles and their gentlemen.

To enter the plantation grounds, guests walked through a rock garden complete with fountain and colored lights. Behind the mansion couples were seen strolling under the pink rose trellises and through the garden. Dancing was done under a heavenly ceiling of blue and white. The band was housed in an ivy-trellised octagonal pagoda.

Southern barbecue and other party refreshments were served in the patio which was illuminated by torches.

Approximately 500 students, faculty members, and guests attended.

Best Years of Their Lives

After struggling through twelve wonderful, worthwhile, and sometimes wearying years of school, the 1963 seniors already are looking forward to a bright, new future.

During the past four years they have enjoyed some of the best times of their lives. They have seen many changes made in their school building and school life. When they were freshmen they were the "babies" of the school with everyone trying to help them grow up. By their sophomore year, however, after stumbling through Julius Caesar and world history, they felt able to look the world in the eye. As juniors they financed, decorated, and attended the prom, "Evening in Paris."

Now in their final year, they rush to do everything that they may have omitted before. They participated in and attended the Junior-Senior play, "The Curious Savage," went to all the dances and sports events, were thrilled with their first theater-in-the-round, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and were the proud guests at their last high school prom, "Plantation Paradise."

They have enjoyed the past four years and will remember them as the best years of their lives.

Class of '63 Receives Diplomas

RECENT NHS INITIATES . . . Twenty-four graduating seniors belong to the National Honor Society. Those who were inducted in their senior year are Betty Mussman, La Raye Brown, Diane Drass, Charlotte Travis, Bonnie Barbareck, and John Steve Thorn.

in Twilight Graduation Exercises

With 225 seniors graduating on the evening of May 31, 1963, the ceremonies were held outdoors so that approximately 3000 guests could attend.

Mr. Francis C. Huss, principal, presented the class to Mr. Robert Bischof, president of the Board of Education, who awarded the diplomas. Mary Jury and John King gave the invocation and benediction.

An Honors and Awards Convocation on May 26 replaced the customary Baccalaureate. At this program, 31 scholarships were awarded, recently initiated National Honor Society members were recognized, and Mrs. Ruth Walker, a retiring teacher, was honored.

Mr. Charles Grimm of the Ford Motor Company addressed the group. The invocation and benediction were given by Donald Walter and Lynn O'Shea.
